The screenshot shows a Netscape browser window titled "IP.com - add a publication - Netscape". The address bar shows "http://www.ip.com". The browser displays a "document publishing wizard" with the following elements:

- Navigation Bar: Includes buttons for "step 1", "step 2", "step 3", "step 4", and "step 5".
- Copyright Section (1088): A text input field (1082) for "Copyright". Below it, a note states: "Copyright information regarding your document should be included here even if it is also included in the document itself." A "What's Related" link (1084) is visible in the top right.
- Publication Country Section (1090): A "Select Country" dropdown menu (1092) with a note: "This is the country of origin for the document being submitted." Below it, a "Select Language" dropdown menu (1094) with a note: "Please select the language the document is written in. If there is more than one language, please select the language used primarily within the document." Navigation buttons "previous" (1096) and "next" (1098) are located below the language selection.
- Footer: Includes a "Home" link, "IP publication" link, "New publication" link, "Search publications" link, and a "Why publish?" link.

Additional labels in the image include 1086 pointing to the "What's Related" link, 914 pointing to the "step 1" button, and 920 pointing to the "step 2" button.
